Date of Interview ____/____/____

Introduction

Thank you for agreeing to talk to us. As you know, we are talking to you as part of a research project that we are doing on families' use of child care. It's very important that we talk to every one of the families in the study. As we explained earlier, everything that you say to me will be completely private—only the research staff will see the interview, and your name won't remain on any of the forms. We have assigned each interview an ID number, and no one except the research staff will be able to match your name with that ID.

I want to thank you again for agreeing to talk with me. If you have any questions at any time, or if you don't understand something I've said, please let me know. If you feel uncomfortable with any questions, please let me know and we'll go on to the next one. Okay? Do you have any questions now?

Section A. Household Characteristics

First I'd like to ask you some questions about your household.

- A1. I'd like to know about anyone who lives in your household now. I only need to know their first names. Let's start with you. (GO TO CHART 1; ENTER RESPONDENT'S NAME ON FIRST LINE, NAMES OF ALL OTHER MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD ON SUCCEEDING LINES.) Let me read what you've told me back to you. (READ A1 LIST.) Did we include everyone who usually lives here?

(ASK A2 and A3 FOR EACH PERSON LISTED IN A1 AND ENTER ON CHART 1.)

- A2. What is (NAME)'s relationship to you? (ENTER RELATIONSHIP AND CODE.)

- A3. How old is (NAME)?

Introduction

Thank you for agreeing to talk with us. As you know, we are talking to you as part of a research project that we are conducting on families' use of child care. Everything that you say to me will be completely private—only the research staff will see the interview, and your name won't remain on any of the forms. We have assigned each interview an ID number, and no one except the research staff will be able to match your name with that ID.

I want to thank you again for agreeing to talk with me. If you have any questions at any time, or if you don't understand something I've said, please let me know. If you feel uncomfortable with any questions, please let me know and we'll go on to the next one. Okay? Do you have any questions now?

- G1. Now we'd like to ask you some questions about [FOCUS CHILD]. We're interested in the ways he/she is learning to play with other children and to express his/her feelings. I'm going to read a list of descriptions to you, and I want you to tell me whether your child is like the description rarely or never, sometimes, often, or almost always. There are no right or wrong answers. Every child is different, and we are interested in knowing about how children develop and learn about being with other people.

Date of Interview ____/____/____

I'd like to ask you some questions about what you do and where you go before and after school. I would like you to think about the questions and do your best to answer them. This is not a test, and there are no right or wrong answers; I'm just interested in what you think. All of your answers will be kept private. Your parents, teachers and other students will never see your answers.

1. Your mother/father/grandmother/etc told me that you go to (NAME OF PROGRAM OR CAREGIVER) before/after school, is that right?

Yes1
 No (CLARIFY WHERE CHILD IS AND CONTINUE)2

First, I'd like to find out about the people who take care of you or are around when you are at (NAME OF PROGRAM OR CAREGIVER).

2. How many grown-ups are there at (NAME OF PROGRAM OR CAREGIVER) who take care of you?

3. What is(are) the names of your teacher(s)/caregiver(s) who usually take(s) care of you after school? (ENTER ANSWER VERBATIM.)

4. Is there ever anyone else instead of (NAME) who takes care of you?

Environment Checklist

Procedure and Definitions

Overview

The Environment Checklist describes the physical conditions in the child care setting. It consists of 77 items organized into nine sections. Most of the items can be rated based on observation of the setting. A few may require the rater to ask the provider directly.

The rating system includes three categories: 1 = usually true/consistent evidence; 2 = partially or sometimes true/some evidence; and 3 = not true/little or no evidence. Each item must be rated as 1, 2 or 3. There are two exceptions. On some items, where the distinction is drawn between the presence and the absence of particular conditions, there are only two choices 1 or 3. Also on some items, a fourth choice is provided: 4 = Not Applicable. For those items, the definition of Not Applicable is stated on the item. Usually, the item is not applicable because the setting does not have any children of a particular age.

Space

1. 1 = most/all of the materials that children can reach on their own can be used safely by the children.
2 = only some of the materials that children can reach on their own can be used safely by the children.
3 = very little/none of the materials that children can reach on their own can be used safely by the children.
2. 1 = it is usually/always true that activities are not cramped or crowded, i.e., children always have enough space to participate in the activity comfortably.
2 = it is only sometimes true that activities are not cramped or crowded, i.e., children sometimes have enough space to participate in the activity comfortably.
3 = it is not true that activities are not cramped or crowded, i.e., children never or almost never have enough space to participate in the activity comfortably.
3. 1 = there is a comfortable and cozy place that children can use, i.e., soft furniture, carpet with cushions.
2 = DO NOT USE
3 = there is no comfortable and cozy place that children can use.
4. 1 = children usually have a place to use materials without interference from younger children; i.e., preschoolers can use materials without toddlers/babies interfering and if there are school-age children, a quiet place to do homework is available.
2 = children only sometimes have a place to use materials without interference from younger children; i.e., preschoolers sometimes can use materials without toddlers/babies interfering and sometimes not; or, if there are school-age children, a quiet place to do homework is only available some of the time.
3 = children rarely or never have a place to use materials without interference from younger children; i.e., preschoolers cannot use materials without toddlers/babies interfering and if there are school-age children, a quiet place to do homework is not available.

4 = not applicable if all of the children in the setting are the same age, i.e., all babies/toddlers, all preschoolers, or all school age children.

5. 1 = there is an area available on a regular basis where children can play actively, i.e., physical play involving movement, climbing, etc.; may be indoor or outdoor. If setting is in a location where climate is too harsh for outdoor play in winter, code as A1" only if there is an alternative indoor space.
2 = there is an area where children can play actively but it is available only some of the time, i.e., an outdoor area that cannot be used in winter
3 = there is not an area where children can play actively, i.e., physical play involving movement, climbing, etc.; may be indoor or outdoor.
6. 1 = children two years and under usually/consistently have access to space for physical movement, including crawling, standing up, walking holding onto sturdy, low furniture as needed. And space is sufficient and safe.
2 = children two years and under only sometimes have access to space for physical movement, including crawling, standing up, walking holding onto sturdy, low furniture as needed, and space that is available is sufficient and safe.
3 = children two years and under rarely/never have access to space for physical movement, including crawling, standing up, walking holding onto sturdy, low furniture as needed; or space that is available is not sufficient and safe.

4 = not applicable if all of the children in the setting are older than two years.

Environmental Comfort

7. 1 = lighting is usually/consistently bright where children use books, art materials, manipulatives.
2 = areas where children use books, art materials, manipulatives only sometimes is brightly lit.
3 = areas where children use books, art materials, manipulatives is rarely/never brightly lit.
8. 1 = there are no unpleasant smells, including urine, feces, garbage, pets, tobacco smoke, air deodorizers, other cleaners, mildew, or other fumes.
2 = DO NOT USE
3 = there are unpleasant smells, including urine, feces, garbage, pets, tobacco smoke, air deodorizers, other cleaners, mildew, or other fumes.
9. 1 = the level of background noise is usually/consistently comfortableBeither nonexistent or sufficiently low-level so as not to interfere with talking and listening. This means there is not a loud television or music on, including children=s music, and there is not loud background noise from outside (e.g., traffic).
2 = the level of background noise is sometimes uncomfortableBsufficiently loud so as to interfere with talking and listening. This includes loud television or music on, including children=s music, and loud background noise from outside (e.g., traffic).
3 = the level of background noise is often/usually uncomfortableBsufficiently loud so as to interfere with talking and listening. This includes loud television or music on, including children=s music, and loud background noise from outside (e.g., traffic).

10. 1 = television is usually/consistently off--this also includes radio, records, videos, other forms of entertainment.
2 = television is on some of the time--this also includes radio, records, videos, other forms of entertainment.
3 = television is rarely or never off--this also includes radio, records, videos, other forms of entertainment.
4 = not applicable if there is no television, radio, record player, etc. in the setting.

Equipment and Materials

- 11a. 1 = for children one year or younger, there is sufficient quantity and variation in toys and materials to engage children in developmentally appropriate ways. [see attached list for examples of appropriate materials]
2 = for children one year or younger, toys and materials are only partly sufficient in quantity and variation in to engage children in developmentally appropriate waysBeither not enough toys for the number of children of that age or insufficient variation.
3 = for children one year or younger, toys and materials are not sufficient in quantity nor variety to be able to engage all children in developmentally appropriate ways.
4 = not applicable if no children are one year or younger.
- 11b. 1 = for children one+ up to three years of age, there is sufficient quantity and variation in toys and materials to engage children in developmentally appropriate ways. [see attached list for examples of appropriate materials]
2 = for children one+ up to three years of age, toys and materials are only partly sufficient in quantity and variation in to engage children in developmentally appropriate waysBeither not enough toys for the number of children of that age or insufficient variation.
3 = for children one+ up to three years of age, toys and materials are not sufficient in quantity nor variety to be able to engage all children in developmentally appropriate ways.
4 = not applicable if there are no children in the setting who are one+ up to three years of age.
- 11c. 1 = for children three+ up to five years of age, there is sufficient quantity and variation in toys and materials to engage children in developmentally appropriate ways. [see attached list for examples of appropriate materials]
2 = for children three+ up to five years of age, toys and materials are only partly sufficient in quantity and variation in to engage children in developmentally appropriate waysBeither not enough toys for the number of children of that age or insufficient variation.
3 = for children three+ up to five years of age, toys and materials are not sufficient in quantity nor variety to be able to engage all children in developmentally appropriate ways.
4 = not applicable if there are no children in the setting who are three+ up to five years of age.
- 11d. 1 = for children older than five years, there is sufficient quantity and variation in toys and materials to engage children in developmentally appropriate ways. [see attached list for examples of appropriate materials]
2 = for children older than five years, toys and materials are only partly sufficient in quantity and variation in to engage children in developmentally appropriate waysBeither not enough toys for the number of children of that age or insufficient variation.
3 = for children older than five years, toys and materials are not sufficient in quantity nor variety to be able to engage all children in developmentally appropriate ways.

4 = not applicable if there are no children in the setting who are older than five years.

12. 1 = household items are used by children in learning/play activities.
2 = DO NOT USE.
3 = household items are never used by children in learning/play activities.
13. 1 = there are at least 10 books appropriate in level for each age of child enrolled. To count, books must be visible to the observer.
2 = there are some books--but fewer than 10Bvisible that are appropriate in level for each age of child enrolled.
3 = there are no more than two books visible that are appropriate in level for each age of child enrolled.
14. 1 = some books are accessible to children of all ages.
2 = some books are accessible but not to children of all ages.
3 = no books are available to children of any age.
15. 1 = other than books, there are some materials available to promote language and dramatic play. (Language materials include telephones, puppets, interactive games, audio materials. Dramatic play materials include dress up clothes, props, dolls, blocks, human/animal figures.) Materials must be accessible to children on their own.
2 = other than books, there are some materials to promote language and dramatic play but they are not accessible to the children.
3 = other than books, there are no materials available to promote language and dramatic play.
16. 1 = there are basic art materials in the setting and children usually/consistently have free access to them. (Art materials include crayons, paper, markers, glue, paint, playdough or clay.)
2 = there are basic art materials in the setting and children sometimes have free access to them.
3 = there are no basis art materials in the setting or there are materials but children do not have free access to them.

Indoor Safety and Health: Home Furnishings and Materials/Equipment

17. 1 = all indoor equipment and materials are in good repairBno splinters, peeling paint, loose or rusty parts.
2 = some indoor equipment and materials are not in good repair.
3 = most indoor equipment and materials are not in good repair.
18. 1 = toy chest is safeBeither there is no lid or lid has safety hinges and air holes and is not heavy.
2 = DO NOT USE.
3 = toy chest is not safeBlid does not have safety hinges or air holes, or is heavy.

4 = no toy chest in setting.

19. 1 = indoor climbing structures that are higher than 36", including climbers, swings or slides, have cushioning material placed underneath them, i.e., structure is not sitting directly on wood, linoleum, cement floor.
2 = DO NOT USE.
3 = indoor climbing structures that are higher than 36" do not have cushioning material underneath them, i.e., structure is sitting directly on wood, linoleum, cement floor.

Drop-side latches shall securely hold sides in the raised position and shall not be reachable by the child in the crib. Cribs are not used with the drop-side down.
2 = Some cribs or portacribs do not meet current safety standards (see list under A1").
3 = Cribs and portacribs do not meet current safety standards (see list under A1").
4 = There are no cribs or portacribs in the setting.

Outdoor Safety and Health: Materials/Equipment

58. 1 = All outdoor stairs with more than 3 steps in areas used by children are safe--have stable and sturdy railings that are usable by the children, i.e., at a height that children can easily hold onto.
2 = Only some outdoor stairs with more than 3 steps in areas used by children have railings that meet all safety guidelines (see list in A1").
3 = No outdoor stairs with more than 3 steps in areas used by children have railings that meet all safety guidelines (see list under A1").
4 = There are no outdoor stairs with more than 3 steps in areas used by children. [If the children use a public playground, then apply these standards to the equipment on the playground.]
59. 1 = All outdoor equipment and materials are sturdy and in good repair (no splinters, peeling paint, protruding nails or bolts, loose or rusty parts) and are safe for the ability and levels of the children who use them (climbing structures are not too high; wheel toys are appropriate).

2 = Some outdoor equipment and materials are not sturdy or in good repair, or are not safe for the children using them.

3 = Most indoor equipment and materials are not sturdy or in good repair, or are not safe for the children using them.

4 = There is no outdoor play space used by children in the setting. [If the children use a public playground, then apply these standards to the equipment on the playground.]

60. 1 = All outdoor play equipment is safe: spaced to avoid safety hazards for active children, surrounded by a resilient materials (mats, wood chips, raked soft sand) are installed underneath climbers, swings, slides, and the fall zones around them.

2 = Some outdoor play equipment is not safe (see list under A1").

3 = Most indoor play equipment is not safe (see list under A1").

4 = There is no outdoor play space used by children in the setting. [If the children use a public playground, then apply these standards to the equipment on the playground.]

61. 1 = All swings are safe: clearance area and fall zone extend at least 6 feet beyond stationary swing; swing hang at least 30" away from support poles; swing seats do not have pinch points or AS@ hooks; hooks at the top of swing ropes/chains are closed.

2 = Some swings do not meet all safety standards (see list under A1@).

3 = Most swings do not meet all safety standards (see list under A1").

4 = There are no swings used by children in the setting. [If the children use a public playground, then apply these standards to the equipment on the playground.]

62. 1 = Sand box is consistently covered when not in use.

2 = DO NOT USE.

3 = Sand box is sometimes not covered when not in use.

4 = There is no sand box used by children in the setting. [If the children use a public playground, then apply these standards to the equipment on the playground.]

63. 1 = A fence or natural barrier encloses the play space, or traffic is not a hazard.

2 = DO NOT USE.

3 = Play space is not enclosed by a fence or natural barrier and traffic is a possible hazard.

4 = There is no outdoor play space used by children in the setting. [If the children use a public playground, then apply these standards to the playground.]

64. 1 = Play space, including neighborhood playground if used, is free of animal feces, broken glass, trash, building supplies, poisonous or toxic plants, or other potentially injurious material.

2 = Play space is not completely free of the hazards listed under A1").

3 = Play space has multiple of the hazards listed under A1").

ENVIRONMENT SNAPSHOT

NUMBER OF CHILDREN AND ADULTS PRESENT IN THE SETTING

Mark the total number of children present for each age category. The total number should match the number of children in the activity list on the next page.

Mark the total number of adult present in each category. The total number must match the number of adults in the activity list on the next page.

SUMMARY RATING OF ENVIRONMENT

In the left-hand columns, rate the children on whether they were crying, listless, fighting, teasing, or interacting with peers--base this on the behavior of all children who are awake. Rate whether there is any adult conflict.

In the right-hand columns, code whether the focus child is crying, listless, fighting, teasing, interacting with peers, or sleeping.

Activity Codes

- 2. Meal/Snack: for actual eating. Cooking activities that children are participating in go under 15: Real-life Chores. If the provider is preparing meals on her own (without children), code under 21: Administrative/Non-child.
- 3. Sleeping/Resting: Use only if children are actually resting or sleeping on beds, cots, rugs on floor.
- 4. Physical Care: Includes toileting, diapering, washing hands, wiping noses, routine medical care, getting the child a drink.
- 6. Fine Motor Play: All activities involving manipulating small objects--puzzles, beads. Put play with small cars here only if there is no evidence of pretend play like car noises. If fine motor play is involved in other activities such as pretend play, music, art, number & letter activities, science, enter them under these other categories.
- 7. Gross Motor Play: large muscle play, indoor or out. Dancing and movement activities (such as ring around the rosy) go under 9: Music/Dance.
- 9. Music/Dance: formal and informal singing, singing games. For songs used routinely during clean-up or other transitions, code under 19: Transition.
- 13. Numeracy/Literacy/Homework: any activities involving learning about numbers, letters, including any worksheets and/or homework. Include ABCs song here rather than under 9: Music/Dance.
- 14. Group/Circle Time: 2 or more children, with an adult, have a formal shared discussion, about plan for day, upcoming special activities, day of week, etc. Do not use this code if children are simply sitting in a circle but participating in some other activity.
- 15. Real-life Chores: code when children are involved in household chores, such as laundry, cleaning, etc. If adult is involved in these activities without children, use 21: Administrative/Non-child.
- 17. On Walk/Field Trip: use this when the children leave the setting and travel around the neighborhood/ community.

18. Socialize Outside of Activity: use when only socializing is going on. If children are socializing in the context of another activity such as art, fine motor play, etc, do not code here. Instead put them in that other activity.

20. Non-constructive Behavior: Child not involved in or watching any activity. May be passive (sucking thumb, staring off into space) or active (throwing things, running around wildly, having tantrum). A child in time-out should be listed here.

21. Administrative/Non-child: use for any activities in which the caregiver is involved without children--talking on phone, doing administrative work, preparing materials, doing chores. If 2 adults are socializing without children, use this code.

ADULT CODES

Cg: adult with primary caretaking responsibility.

Asst: assistant to the caregiver

OthAd: parent of child, visitor, other adult not related to cg

CgFam: members of caregiver's family who are 16 or older.

RULES

Numbers of children and adults present (on 1st page) must be the same as the total number of children and adults shown in the activity list on the 2nd page.

Put involved children and adults in the 2nd column. Place children adults in the Watching column only when they are watching another person do that particular activity. If nobody is involved in a particular activity, do code any children or adults as watching that activity.

Observers are not counted in number of adults present.

Roster of adults and children present must be completely filled in every Snapshot.

All children in the care setting must be included on the Snapshot, even if they are in different rooms (and not in the room you are in).

Caregiver who is not involved with children is always put under 21: Administrative/Non-child, regardless of what she is doing.

Enter numbers of children under the activity list, not tally marks.

If other children not in care (such as neighborhood children) are present during the Snapshot, include them in the count and the activity list even though they are not on the initial roster.

CHILD OBSERVATION

ACTIVITY WITH OBJECTS

Code the activity in which the focus child is engaged, whether or not the FC is actually touching an object during the 5 seconds you observe.

Do NOT count as objects: food, pets, TV, pacifiers, bottles. DO count as objects things in nature: leaves, rocks, etc.

2. Carry/mouth--passively holding or sucking on an object; transporting an object from place to place (includes putting toys away).

3. Manipulate--active manipulation of object, in nonspecific ways. Banging objects together, banging object with hand, spinning wheels of truck, fingering, pulling, kicking over blocks.

4. Functional--manipulating object with actions specific to particular characteristics of the object. Using object exactly the way intended, without experimentation. Crayons to color, insert plastic shapes into shape box, stacks blocks in bins, games with rules. Include reading here. 5. Creative--goal-directed problem solving or systematic experimentation with object. Ex: building a castle with blocks, balancing a block on a tower. 6. Dramatic--substitution of an imaginary situation for an object to satisfy his/her personal needs and wishes, incl. make-believe or pretend play. Ex: talk to mommy on pretend phone, cook in toy kitchen, use costumes to be superheroes.

FC ACTIVITY WITH PEERS

2. Parallel--FC and peer are playing with the same type of objects and are within 3 feet of each other but have no mutual awareness. Ex: 2 children both playing blocks in same area but not paying attention to each other. Usually observed only in very young children (i.e., under 2 years).

3. Parallel Aware--parallel play accompanied by a social interest as demonstrated by eye gaze and mutual awareness. 4. Simple Social--FC and peer in social interaction. This is lowest code for interaction with peers. Asking to join a game is simple social interaction.

5. Complementary-Reciprocal--FC and at least one peer engage in social play with a turn-taking structure and/or role reversal. Each child takes a turn at each role, such as when children are working together on a task. Ex: taking turns pointing to pictures in book, taking turns pouring sand into bucket, hide and seek, throw and catch, tickling each other.

6. Social Pretend--FC and peer enact complementary roles within social pretend play, taking on fantasy roles, pretending to someone or something else. Roles do not have to be explicitly named but must be clear from the actions of the children. May include naming roles, assigning roles.

7. Games with Rules--games that follow a set of structured commonly-understood rules, card games, active games. Do not include dramatic role play (which goes under Social Pretend).

If the child is talking to himself, including singing or making noises, code this as 1: none.

FOCUS CHILD OR PEER PROSOCIAL/AGGRESSIVE

Prosocial behavior includes sharing, taking turns, comforting or helping another person, expressing empathy. May be verbal or nonverbal. Does not include behavior that is only warm and positive. Does include behavior that reflects the child's understanding the needs, role of another person. Asking to join or showing a peer something is not prosocial. Aggressive behavior includes threatening behavior, fighting, hitting, calling names. May be verbal or nonverbal. Does not include statements/behavior that is assertive but not aggressive or threatening. Must be aggressive not just non-social.

ADULT CONTACT WITH FOCUS CHILD

Include only physical/visual contact here, language is coded in the next category.

1. No contact, adult out of room. Out of room, no visual or physical contact with FC.

2. Visual contact, adult out of room. Out of room, visual contact only, no physical.

3. No contact, adult in same room. In room, no physical or visual contact.

4. Visual contact, adult in same room. In room, visual contact only, no physical.

5. Low level physical contact. Adult touches child only for necessary discipline, redirection, physical care.

6. Moderate level physical contact. Adult has warm or helpful physical contact with FC.

7. High level physical contact. Adult hugs or holds, kisses FC, or plays interactively. Any interactive play is coded here.

ADULT LANGUAGE WITH FOCUS CHILD

2. Socializes: includes social niceties, responding yes/no.

3. Teaches: reasons, explains, labels--adult transmits information to teach--labels objects, explains how to do something, states rules for a game. Includes reading. Does not include behavior management.

4. Neutral management, directs, suggests--adult directs or manages FC's behavior in a neutral way. Gives child reasons for doing or not doing something. Includes direct commands, gently phrased suggestions, rhetorical questions.

5. Questions for elab. responses--adult asks questions of FC that call for a thoughtful or original response from the child rather than a simple yes or no. These must be true questions, rather than rhetorical questions or commands disguised as questions.

6. Positive management, praises, encourages--adult directs or manages FC's behavior in a positive way, praises child for approved behavior or accomplishment, encourages child's activity, or expresses liking for or pleasure in the child. Includes soothing.

7. Negative management, punish, threaten--adult handles the FC's problem or misbehavior in a harsh or negative way. Includes negative remarks about the child's activity. Ex: yell, criticize, reprimand, threaten, sarcasm, scold.

Which Caregiver is Most Involved with the Children. Circle which adult was most involved with the children over the course of the observation period or mark “equal” if both the main caregiver and the assistant were equally involved with the children.
1	1– 2– 3–	The provider rarely pays attention to children or shows noticeable lack of interest in the children. Provider sometimes pays attention to, shows some interest in children, but sometimes shows signs of inattention or lack of interest. Provider usually/consistently pays attention to and shows interest in children, through verbal responses, facial expressions, gestures, physical contact. Few signs of inattention or lack of interest.
2	1– 2– 3–	The provider is rarely responsive to children’s language/vocalizations. The provider sometimes responds; there are more than a few instances of not responding. The provider usually/consistently responds verbally or non-verbally to children’s language/vocalizations.
3	1– 2– 3–	The provider does not talk to most children individually. The provider has only one conversation with each child or has multiple conversations with some children and none with others. The provider has multiple conversations with each child.
4	1– 2– 3–	The provider rarely shows affection to any child. The provider shows affection to some children but not to others. The provider shows affection to each child at least once.
5	1– 2– 3–	Provider rarely notices or offers help, or help is usually interfering rather than helpful. Provider sometimes notices and offers help. Some opportunities are missed and/or some offers are interfering rather than helpful. Provider usually/consistently notices when children need help and offers help when needed, but does not interfere or force help.
6	1– 2– 3–	Provider rarely acknowledges children’s efforts OR acknowledges efforts of only a few children. Provider sometimes acknowledges children’s efforts but misses some opportunities OR provider only acknowledges efforts of some. Provider usually/consistently acknowledges each child’s efforts either by praise or by talking about what a child has done.
7	1– 2– 3–	Provider rarely accepts children’s feelings OR accepts feelings of only a few children. Provider sometimes accepts children’s feelings, but at other times appears unaccepting OR provider accepts feelings of only some of the children. Provider usually/consistently accepts children’s feelings, not discounting or ignoring how the child feels or says he/she feels.
8	1– 2– 3– 4-	Provider usually does not recognize signs of distress OR does not respond to them appropriately. Provider sometimes recognizes, responds to signs of distress OR provider recognizes, responds to distress only in some children. Provider usually/consistently recognizes and responds appropriately to distress for all children (comforts them with stress-reducing activities, helps children find quiet activities if overstimulated, responds to baby’s crying promptly and effectively). Children do not show signs of distress during observation.
9	1– 2– 3–	No interactive games between provider and children. Provider plays one or two interactive games. Provider takes advantage of multiple opportunities to play interactive games--games involving reciprocal interaction between provider and child with each person responding to the actions of the other (i.e., peek-a-boo).
10	1– 2– 3– 4-	Provider rarely holds babies. Provider holds babies only some of the time OR provider holds some babies frequently, others rarely. Provider holds babies much of the time and all babies are held at some point. No children one year of age or younger present in setting during observation.
11	1– 2– 3–	Provider rarely states limits and consequences OR rarely states them clearly and calmly. Provider sometimes states limits clearly and calmly. Sometimes may neglect to state them or may not state them clearly and calmly. Provider usually/consistently states needed limits and usually/consistently states them clearly and calmly.
12	1– 2– 3–	Provider rarely helps children understand and express feelings. Provider sometimes helps children understand and express feelings etc, but misses some opportunities OR provider only helps some children. Provider usually/consistently helps children understand, express feelings and control impulses, by helping children talk through how they are feeling, giving them alternative strategies for expressing feelings or gaining control, etc.
13	1– 2– 3–	Provider rarely helps children notice others’ needs and feelings. Provider sometimes helps children notice others’ needs and feelings OR provider only helps some children. Provider usually/consistently helps children notice others’ needs and feelings, including pointing out how another child is feeling.
14	1– 2– 3– 4-	Provider rarely helps children experience natural consequences but instead imposes arbitrary limits. Provider sometimes helps children experience natural consequences, but sometimes or for some children sets arbitrary limits. Provider usually/consistently helps children experience the natural consequences of their own misbehavior when it is safe to do so. No child misbehavior observed.
15	1– 2– 3–	Provider usually forces children into activities, rarely letting them make choices about their activities. Sometimes the provider forces children into activities rather than letting them decide (do not include transitions). The provider usually/consistently does not force children into activities, but lets the children decide their own activities.

Summary Rating of Provider

1	1-	Provider is consistently relaxed and comfortable, no evidence of tension, at ease with the children, with the activities, and in talking with the observer (an initial period of slight tension is acceptable if it dissipates shortly after the observation begins).
	2-	Provider is mostly relaxed but does exhibit some tension.
	3-	Provider has almost equal periods of tension and relaxation.
	4-	Provider is more tense than relaxed, but does show some signs of relaxation.
	5-	Provider is consistently tense, no evidence of relaxation or comfort.
2	1-	Provider is very often harsh or threatening to the children, showing few signs of gentleness. May be verbal or nonverbal
	2-	Provider is often brusque or abrupt with children, and may display some harsh or threatening behavior.
	3-	Provider displays equal parts brusque or gruff as well as gentle behavior with children.
	4-	Provider is gentle with the children but not overly so, displaying some brusque or gruff behavior.
	5-	Provider is very gentle with children throughout the observation, not displaying any harsh or threatening behavior.
3	1-	Provider is in control throughout the observation, never appearing out of control (yelling excessively, unnecessary physical force).
	2-	Provider is mostly in control, but has 1 or 2 minor incidents of a lack of control.
	3-	Provider has 3 or more minor incidents of a lack of control or 1 more serious incidence.
	4-	Provider has more than 1 serious incidence of lack of control, but lack of control is not consistent.
	5-	Provider appears to be out of control many times over the course of the observation
4	1-	Provider seems tired or weak throughout the observation, showing a lack of energy or ability to physically interact with the children.
	2-	Provider seems somewhat tired or weak but has a few spurts of energy.
	3-	Provider seems physically able to care for the children but doesn't attempt to join them in their physical play.
	4-	Provider seems physically able to care for the children but only interacts with them physically once or twice.
	5-	Provider seems physically able to care for the children and interact with them physically, often joining in their physical play.
5	1-	Provider obviously enjoys all the children, verbally (complimenting children, telling them she enjoys them, smiling, etc) and nonverbally (hugs, kisses, caresses, etc).
	2-	Provider seems to enjoy the children, but is not effusive with praise or delight. May be inconsistent in her enjoyment (more effusive with some children than with others), but does not show obvious signs of not enjoying any child (disgust, unkind words, boredom).
	3-	Provider sometimes is indifferent to the children, neither enjoying or not enjoying them. She may show a few minor signs of enjoyment or lack of enjoyment to a few children.
	4-	Provider shows signs of not enjoying the children either through boredom or negative affect. She may enjoy one or two children but for most she shows some signs of a lack of enjoyment.
	5-	Provider consistently shows a lack of enjoyment for the children, appearing bored or negative most of the time.
6	1-	Provider is inattentive to what the children are doing most of the time, only tuning in for a crisis. She may be otherwise engaged (TV, book) or just "spacing out".
	2-	Provider displays more than 1 major instance of inattentiveness, but this is not typical/consistent.
	3-	Provider is sometimes alert and paying attention but there are more than 2 instances of minor inattentiveness or 1 major instance.
	4-	Provider is usually alert and paying attention to the children but has 1 or 2 minor instances where she is not paying attention.
	5-	Provider is consistently alert and paying attention to the activities in which the children are engaged. No signs of inattentiveness. If the caregiver has to give part of her attention to another activity (a phone call), she is still alert and aware of the children.
7	1-	Provider is usually/consistently patient with the children, never hurrying unnecessarily from one activity to another. She lets children do tasks at their own pace. She may prod children if they get off-task, but this is not done in an impatient manner.
	2-	Provider is often patient with the children but there are 1 or 2 times where she is slightly hurried (do not count instances if it is done for the children's safety, i.e., hurrying them across the street).
	3-	There are more than 2 times when the provider is slightly hurried or 1 time when she loses her patience and becomes very hurried.
	4-	There are 2 or more times when the provider is more than slightly impatient, but there are still some instances of patience.
	5-	The provider often is hurried and impatient, as if children are moving too slowly for her or not doing what she wants fast enough.
8	1-	Provider is usually/consistently rigid and unyielding; her schedule and rules are inflexible. There is no evidence of flexibility in her words or actions. Do not count instances where the provider is trying to carry out necessary schedule changes, but include instances when children's needs and wants are ignored to stick to some pre-planned arbitrary schedule.
	2-	Provider is mostly rigid but at times displays some flexibility.
	3-	Provider displays almost equal parts flexibility and rigidity.
	4-	Provider is mostly flexible but a few times displays minor rigidity.
	5-	Provider is consistently flexible; there is either no schedule or no concern with following it if the children would rather do something else. There are few rules except those which protect the safety of the children. This does not mean that the children always get their way, but that the provider does not impose unnecessary time limits or restraints and will attend to the children's needs and wants.
9	1-	Provider is usually/consistently involved with the children, rarely leaving them to attend to other needs. She does not necessarily have to be constantly interacting with the children but may just be watching with interest and ready to interact when appropriate.
	2-	Provider is usually involved with the children, but there are 1 or 2 short times when she is not involved.
	3-	There are 3 or more short times or 1 extended period when the provider is not involved with the children.
	4-	Provider is pretty uninvolved with the children, but occasionally becomes involved at times other than to solve problems.
	5-	Provider is consistently uninvolved with the children, only becoming involved to solve major problems or crises.
